DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Maruyama, in JP 11-187013-A. Citations of Maruyama in this rejection will be taken from the English translation provided.

With regard to claims 1, 12, 20, 21, and 26, Maruyama discloses an information processing system for distributing encrypted message data with a receiving device (pages 20-21 par. [0020]), the device including, encryption processing means for holding a device specific set of a node keys associated with a node in a hierarchical tree structure with a plurality of different devices as leaves and a leaf key peculiar to each device (pages 14-15 par. [0011]) and executing decrypting process on said encrypted message data distributed to a device using said key set (pages 20-21 par. [0020]), wherein a message data distributing means generates a renewal node key (page 21 par. [0021]) into which at least one of the node keys in a group constituted by nodes and leaves connected at subordinate of a top node which is one node of the hierarchical tree structure (pages 14-15 par. [0011]) is renewed and an enabling key block (EKB) into which said renewal node key is encrypted with a node key or a leaf key in said group (pages 20-21 par. [0020]), and generating and distributing a message data encrypted with said renewal node key (content, pages 20-21 par. [0020]) and a link to the renewal node key (pages 5 and 6, claims 2 and 4).

With regard to claims 2, 13 and 25, the key must be decrypted in order to view the content (pages 20-21 par. [0020]).

With regard to claims 3-6, 14-17, 22-24, and 27-31, the key block is a message data decrypted with the last key block sent (page 4 step 740, page 19 par. [0018]).

With regard to claims 7 and 18, Maruyama discloses using the key to view encrypted content (pages 20-21 par. [0020]).

With regard to claims 8 and 19, Maruyama discloses encrypting with each users public key, which is authentication (pages 18-19 par. [0017]).

With regard to claim 9, Maruyama discloses an intermediate device (the Internet, page 1 par. [0001]).

With regard to claims 10 and 11, Maruyama discloses sending the renewed key to devices that receive broadcasted content (pages 20-21 par. [0020]) and a subgroup of devices that have not seceded (pages 21 par. [0021]).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 22 May 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

With regard to applicant's argument that Maruyama does not disclose a link to the key, the examiner points to claims 2 and 4 of Maruyama. Maruyama claims a means to deliver the key, and then that the means is through the Internet, thus the receiver is receiving a link to the key through the Internet.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
